Health Detective-specific Subscription & Membership Terms & Conditions

Version II

Intention

These Health Detective-specific Subscription & Membership Terms & Conditions are written in the spirit of honesty, transparency and right-intention. I thank you in advance for respecting them accordingly.

The aim of making it possible for you to subscribe and become a member of the Moativational Medicine™ Health Detective Agency is very simple:

To avail you of information designed to assist you in reaching a better understanding of the emotional causes, components, contributors or under-currents that may exist in relation to any illness, ailment, dis-ease, symptoms or physical condition you or your clients may experience.

With the added benefits of the Moativational Medicine Cause Identifier™, Request-a-Condition service, and other tools to help you, my aim is to provide you with a reliable collection of well-researched, validated and accurate information.

As such, these Health Detective-specific Subscription & Membership Terms & Conditions reflect this.

In providing this service, and for the term of your subscription period, you can expect the information to be expanded and updated.

Barring any unforeseen web-related technical errors, the service should always be available. If I become aware of any reason why the service is rendered unavailable, I will act immediately. Should any lengthy absence and need to be off-line prevail, I will let you know.

Your Position

You have a statutory right to change your mind and receive a full refund within seven working days of subscribing (or renewing), as long as no downloading or recording of information has taken place. Notification must be received of any such intention in writing no later than seven days following your date of registration (or renewal).

Whether you are an individual primarily keen to learn more for self-use and self-interest, or if you are a professional wishing to broaden your understanding of the role emotions can play in the on-set and maintenance of what ails us, the following applies:

Although many of the results achieved through embracing the principles of Moativational Medicine™ have truly been life- and health-changing, Moativational Medicine™ is not a recognized medical entity, nor am I, Richard Moat, a qualified medical doctor (MD). I am, therefore, not licensed to offer medical advice and this Health Detective facility makes no claims to be doing so.

Because your health is your responsibility and I am cognisant and respectful of the strict guidelines the various world medical governing bodies have on what can and cannot be stated and claimed, you must decide if what the Moativational Medicine Health Detective™ states and claims applies to you/your clients.

My aim is to empower you by providing you with another perspective, one that is allied to and can be integrated with any model of health and healing you may choose to turn to or practice, so that your choices (and those of your clients) are increased. Ultimately, the decision as to which model(s) you (advise your clients to) turn to is up to you.

The Legal Jargon

All of the information and opinions contained within the Health Detective facility are provided as an allied point of view to that/those you may already adopt, follow or hold. The information and opinions are designed to increase your options, broaden your horizons and empower you to make more informed choices for yourself and those you may advise. They are therefore designed to be in addition to whatever model(s) of health, healing, advice, wellbeing and treatment you may at any time turn to.

Rights and Limitations of Use

You are obligated and required to keep your membership personal to you and not share it with anyone else.

Anyone using the facility who is not officially registered is capable - albeit unwittingly - of opening themselves, the person whose access details they use, and the Moativational Medicine™ body of work to any number of unwanted and potentially difficult scenarios, some legal, some moral.

This means you will be in violation of these terms and conditions if you pass on your access information to anyone else for the purposes of using the facility.

This Health Detective content may be downloaded and copied by you as long as you are a registered Health Detective and as long as the full copyright, disclaimer, contact and creation information appears clearly wherever it may be downloaded or copied to, and only if used for the purposes of your own health or those who come to you for guidance on their own health matters.

A polite cautionary word as to why you should not be copying for the purposes of passing on any of the information accessed from this facility:

Despite being well-intentioned in your desire to share what you may have access to, how someone else uses, interprets and applies what you may pass them is to a large degree outside of your control. To avoid misrepresentation and misinterpretation and any recourse in your direction, you are strongly advised not to pass on downloaded or copied information from the site.

Renewing Your Subscription

In the early days of the service, subscribing is/was done via direct contact with us here at Moativational Medicine™ headquarters. Some time in the future the process of subscribing will become automated. When this happens:

- You will be notified once the service has shifted over to an automated format and it will be fully explained what your options are. Because no credit card details are kept by me, any renewal will have to be instigated by you.
- Once automated, and for your convenience, you will be contacted shortly before your subscription expires, letting you know of the intention to continue to provide you with the service, what amount is due and on what date.
- I will make it very easy for you to not continue with your renewal although I naturally hope that you will be pleased with the service and choose to re-subscribe.

Please remember to notify me of any change in your email address at any time.

Please make sure that any anti-spam software you use has the following domains white-listed so that you can receive all the Health Detective-related communications: www.richardmoat.com and www.moativationalmedicine.com

Thanks in anticipation of your willingness to honour these terms and conditions.

Yours sincerely,

Richard Moat
